Acknowledgments

This report is the outcome of work conducted by the OECD Eurasia Competitiveness Programme under the authority of the Eastern Europe and South Caucasus Initiative Steering Committee (referred to in this publication as the "OECD"), in close collaboration with governments and the private sector in six countries of the region. A number of ministries, government agencies, and private sector associations of the following countries contributed by their input to this report: Armenia, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Georgia, the Republic of Moldova and Ukraine. The collaboration was led by the national contact points in the six countries of the region: Mr. Garegin Melkonyan, Deputy Minister of Economy of Armenia, Mr. Shahin Mustafayev, Minister of Economy of Azerbaijan, Mr. Anton Kudasov, Deputy Minister of Economy of Belarus, Ms. Vera Kobalia, Minister of Economy and Sustainable Development of Georgia, Mr. Sergiu Ciobanu, Vice Minister of Economy of the Republic of Moldova, Mr. Andriy Klyuyev, First Deputy Prime Minister and Minister of Economic Development and Trade of Ukraine.

The Eastern Europe and South Caucasus Initiative is co-chaired by Poland and Sweden. H.E. Ambassador Paweł Wojciechowski, Permanent Delegation of Poland to the OECD, and H.E. Mats Ringborg, Ambassador, Permanent Delegation of Sweden to the OECD, co-chaired the first Ministerial Conference in 2009.

The Czech Republic was the co-chair of the Policy Working Groups on Investment Policy and Promotion and Access to Finance. In particular, the following co-chair contributions were essential to the outcome of the work: H.E. Ambassador Karel Dyba, Delegation of the Czech Republic to the OECD, Co-chair of the Investment Policy and Promotion Working Group, and Mr. Vlastimil Tesař, Minister Counsellor, Delegation of the Czech Republic to the OECD, Co-chair of the Access to Finance Working Group. We would also like to thank H.E. Ambassador Jan Woroniecki, Former Ambassador at the Delegation of Poland to the OECD, H.E. Ambassador Wolfgang Petritsch, Delegation of Austria to the OECD and Philip Pierros, Former Deputy Permanent Representative at the Delegation of the European Union to the OECD.

A number of partners contributed to the OECD Eastern Europe and South Caucasus Initiative including the European Commission which supports engaging partner countries and contributes to the Policy Working Groups on Access to Finance and Investment Policy and Promotion.

This publication is based on the work and conclusions of the Policy Working Groups and the Ministerial Conference covered by the Initiative. The report was written under the guidance of Carolyn Ervin, Director, Directorate for Enterprise and Financial Affairs, Anthony O'Sullivan, Head of Division, Private Sector Development Division, Barbara Ischinger, Director, Directorate for Education, and Sergio Arzeni, Director of the Centre for Entrepreneurship. The separate chapters were written by different directorates of the OECD and the World Economic Forum, and received input from the Investment Division of the OECD.

Fadi Farra, Head of the OECD Eurasia Competitiveness Programme and adjunct lecturer in political economy at both the Harvard University Kennedy School of Government and HEC Paris, and Ania Thiemann, Senior Economist, led and supervised the study. Marina Cernov, Policy Analyst, helped co-ordinate the study.

The final report was edited and prepared by Vanessa Vallée, Communications Manager; Lynn Robertson, Information and Communications Manager; Barbara Zatlokal, Editor and Edward Smiley, Publications Officer. Valuable administrative support was provided by Orla Halliday, Anna Chahtahtinsky, Zara Kuruneri, Elisabetta Da Prati and Lynn Whitney.
